Chapter 1

Introduction

Internet has brought a big change in the society; we can retrieve the information through internet on almost every topic. World Law Services is also an internet based application operates from homes or satellite offices of its attorneys.

“Elayering” was just a concept but in this present era this concept is practically implemented in advanced countries like America and some other countries. World law system is based on this concept ,served as online portal between clients and attorneys where clients are entertained with legal documents regarding property sale, purchase and leasing processes. We did start working on this project by analyzing the ratio of fraud cases in courts, caused by lack of knowledge regarding law or dependency on other people due to shortage of time.

Now World’s Law Services will facilitate people at their home with free legal documents and suggestions of well renowned attorneys with in no time which will ensure that all terms and conditions related to specific task are fulfilled and less percentage of frauds. Because of its user-friendly interface or behavior every novice person can operate this application. Services in this application will be provided freely and paid.

1.1 Scope

In this application, there will be three roles with their specific responsibilities. These roles will be as follows:

- Admin
- Attorney
- Client (User)

One probably the most illuminative role will be played by the admin side which seems behind but provide platform and controls all these interactions between clients and attorneys. He will manage documents, attorneys and client profiles. Attorney will provide consultancy regarding property matters, prepared legal documentation, and answers of the questions. Client can get freely documentation regarding property, request for consultancy or documentation, and ask questions.
