ABSTRACT

If we observe there are many universities in the big cities like Karachi Islamabad and especially in Lahore. There are many educational institutes and universities but there is also a lack of these type of institutes in small cities and other areas of Punjab which are not well developed so that's why people from these areas have to travel towards big cities for the purpose of getting education. We must have to provide educational institutes and universities in small cities and towns and as well as these institutes can accommodate the surroundings and small areas which are related with other small cities and towns of Punjab.

Introduction

There is a need for a university campus in such a place where this type of facility does not exist already so that people of that specific area do not have to travel for the purpose of education away from their homes towards the big cities like Lahore Islamabad etc. specifically focusing on the department of Architecture while designing the University campus.
