1. INTRODUCTION

In this era of globalization socialization is playing a very vital role in our life. This was a need to create an online forum for medical world to share new thoughts, ideas, research and lectures. This idea will enhance the research work and knowledge sharing activities between the students and doctors.

1.1 Project Overview

MED-WALL is an online discussion forum for medical world around the globe. This forum provides various opportunities to doctors and medical students. Doctors will be able to share their thoughts and new research in the field of medical. Medical students will be able to acquire knowledge about the activities which are happening in the medical world. Users (Doctors, Students) will be able to upload their files in documents and attach file can be download.

The technical aspect of this forum is registered members. Login functionality is introduced to join the network for all members so that only validated members can access the portal. A member can access the portal from anywhere across the globe through internet. Roles will be defined for the registered user.
